

NEWS UPDATE - NOVEMBER ISSUE

South Africa's premier Food Science and Technology publication

fst

South African Food Science and Technology

Coming soon in fst's November issue:

Coming soon!

- Novel, cutting-edge ingredient developments
- Consumer deception safeguards
- Low-calorie sweeteners - what they are and why they are safe
- The importance of ethical trade
- How audits and inspections improve food safety
- Chocolate manufacture and safety
- Deboning and cutting
- Challenge to ensure compliance with GM labelling
- The top ten tips to managing a crisis

The official magazine for members of the South African Association for Food Science and Technology (SAAFoST).

- local scientific articles that reflect the diverse research taking place in South Africa today
- articles and papers of interest from company principals and scientists
- summaries of theses or published research by post-graduate students
- SAAFoST branch events and news
- extracts from international scientific publications, journals and magazines
- a diary of local and international food-industry events and conferences
- updates on food legislation
- industry trends and innovations.

ADVERTISE

If your company would like to advertise in FST, SAAFoST's official publication, please contact Tricia editorfst@gmail.com or call 082 969 5676.

SAAFoST
SOUTH AFRICAN ASSOCIATION for FOOD SCIENCE & TECHNOLOGY

Advancing food science and technology