

IFT18—Where You Need To Be.

Re-energize, reconnect, and be inspired—at IFT18 you can do all this and more!

Your days are jammed with meetings, deadlines, conference calls, and hectic family schedules, making it all-the-more difficult for you to stay on top of what's happening in the industry and more importantly, focus on the part of your work you love the most—the science of food and all it has to offer. This is where the Institute of Food Technologists IFT18 annual event and Food Expo comes in.

At IFT18 you can capitalize on four intensive days of:

- networking and connecting with other professionals like yourself;
- knowledge gathering and sharing;
- professional development opportunities;
- innovative product and technology discovery;
- and fun!

IFT's annual event and Food Expo provides you a multitude of resources to get the insights, experiences, and connections you need to rediscover why you love what you do and help you advance your career.
